Base Camp Baja supplies the human spirit with the tonic of wildness it needs. Relax, recharge, and revitalize on board the new National Geographic Venture your luxurious mobile base camp for this 5-day / 4-night wellness expedition. This relaxing voyage is also an opportunity to learn. Join faculty leader Nicolas Wey-Gomez, Caltech professor of history, who will share his expertise on the world of early Spanish explorers and offer insights on natural history and anthropology. National Geographic naturalists will also be on board to enhance your understanding of the forces that shaped Isla Espiritu Santo and the area’s diverse wildlife. Savor intimate, sunset meals with fellow Associates and Professor Wey-Gomez while enjoying stimulating conversations and reflections on each day’s adventures.

Meals indicated as (B – Breakfast, L – Lunch, D – Dinner).

JANUARY 3, 2019: HOME / SAN JOSE DEL CABO / LA PAZ / EMBARK
Fly to Los Cabos airport and transfer to La Paz, where you’ll embark National Geographic Venture between 4:00 pm and 4:30 pm. If you are flying in this day, we have arranged transportation from the airport in San Jose Del Cabo. Set sail on arrival for a sunset cruise of Bahía La Paz en route to Isla Espiritu Santo. (D)

JANUARY 3–6: ISLA ESPIRITU SANTO, ISLA PARTIDA & LOS ISLOTES
Wake up anchored in one of Isla Espiritu Santo’s beautiful bays and watch the cliffs light up as your Wellness Specialist leads a morning yoga or qi gong class on deck or on shore.

NICOLAS WEY-GOMEZ is Professor of History in the Division of the Humanities and Social Sciences at the California Institute of Technology (Caltech). He studies early modern Iberia’s contribution to science and technology, and his specialty is the history of exploration, cartography, empire and globalization. He also teaches Spanish Golden Age literature and culture at Caltech. Professor Wey-Gomez is author of the widely acclaimed book The Tropics of Empire: Why Columbus Sailed South to the Indies, which was published by The MIT Press in 2008. His current projects include a biography of Christopher Columbus titled “What Columbus Discovered,” and a general history of the first one hundred years of global exploration by Portugal and Spain titled “Latitude: How Europe Invented the Global South (1415-1522).”
With the ship as your mobile base-camp, for three full days, you’ll have the luxury to explore or just relax. Discover the dramatically eroded shoreline of Isla Partida on a one-way kayak journey, or join a challenging hike up a rocky arroyo to the crest of the island. Meander a different arroyo with your Naturalists to learn details of the region’s geology and natural history, then learn to standup paddleboard, or hone skills you already possess. Spend a morning snorkeling with playful and curious sea lions, or photograph their antics from expedition landing craft. Learn about the age of explorers in exclusive sessions with Professor Wey-Gomez. Relax with an afternoon massage, then go ashore for a beach barbecue dinner followed by a bonfire under the stars. However you choose to spend these days you’ll be rewarded with a sense of well-being that comes only from spending quality time in nature. (B,L,D)
